How do I become a member?

Complete the Membership Application overleaf and mail it with your membership fee.

Membership costs $20 per year due 1st July. Individuals, families or groups can join the Association.

We operate under a constitution drawn up and endorsed in the year 2000 by a group of propagators, growers, value adders, chefs, gardeners, educators, writers and others interested in bush foods. This is available for download from the QBA website.

Our aim

By sharing the knowledge we gain in gathering, growing, harvesting, and preparing bushfoods, we further their use and our enjoyment.

What does the Queensland Bushfood Association promote?

- The gathering and sharing of reliable information on the growing and use of indigenous Australian food plants
- Networking and support through social gatherings, field days and school-based initiatives
- Encouraging new and existing growers
- Sharing data about the distribution of products
- Promoting bushfoods and bushfood products at markets and festivals
- Seeking the participation of Australian Indigenous People
- Liaising with industry bodies
- We also promote the establishment of:
  - a) Study groups to encourage research and flow of information
  - b) Production and product standards
  - c) Affiliated groups

How do I become involved?

MEETINGS

Usually held in Feb, May & Nov at various venues. AGM is held in August.

Field Days and Workshops are included on our Events Calendar.

Occasionally we have guest speakers address the meetings. Members are encouraged to bring in bushfood they have prepared for others to sample at our meetings.

Our website publishes updated details of meeting dates and venues.
